HIST 3095
Modern Germany, Part 2
1945 to the Present

Dr. Lisa Todd
Department of History
University of New Brunswick

COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course examines German History from the end of World War II to the present. Beginning with the Allied occupation of Germany in 1945, we will study the formation of two separate states: the German Democratic Republic and the Federal Republic of Germany. Using the tools of social, cultural, political, and gender history, we will then consider everyday life under communism and democracy, relations between the two Germanies, and the role of these states in the Cold War. We will analyze the rise of left-wing terrorism, consider the role of the “68ers”, discuss the role of atonement for the crimes of the Holocaust, and compare the lives of workers in the two states. We will then trace the events leading to the fall of the Berlin Wall in 1989, and think about the many challenges Germans continue to face following (re-) unification. We will read primary documents and view documentaries and popular films (such as The Lives of Others and Good-bye Lenin) to further consider the interconnections between popular culture, memory, and political systems.

REQUIRED READING

German History in Documents and Images, German Historical Institute, Washington, D.C. http://germanhistorydocs.ghi-dc.org/ (Search for each document by author or title). I also recommend the Introductions to each time period, if you are looking for further reading.

Economic Miracles, Coca-Cola, and Occupation Babies:
West Germany in the 1950s

Document Assignment 1 (due Jan 12 @ 9:30am)

- Speech by Konrad Adenauer, Chancellor of the Federal Republic, at a Reception Given by the Allied High Commissioners (September 21, 1949)
- Petition Submitted by the Federal Government to the Federal Constitutional Court Requesting a Ban on the Communist Party of Germany (KPD) (November 22, 1951)
- Article on the Debate over German Rearmament (September 14, 1950)
- Berlin Declaration by the Three Western Powers and the German Federal Republic on Reunification (July 29, 1957)
- Family, Child-Rearing, and the Role of Women (December 3, 1961)
- Rock 'n' Roll and German Teenagers (Retrospective Account, 1980)

1. According to these documents, what were the greatest foreign policies challenges facing the new Federal Republic?

2. Choose three (3) statutes from the “Basic Law of the Federal Republic Law of Germany” and discuss how they might have been responses to the crimes of the Nazis.

3. Provide a brief summary and discuss the significance of either: “Family, Child-Rearing, and the Role of Women or “Rock ’n’ Roll and German Teenagers.”

WEEK 3
Jan 19-23
Gangsters, Revolutionaries and Economic Planners:
East Germany in the 1950s

Document Assignment 2 (due Jan 19 @ 9:30am)

- From the Resolution of the First Party Conference of the SED (January 28, 1949)

Cont’d …
1. According to these documents, what were the main political and social challenges facing the new GDR? How did the East German government seek to address these challenges?

2. Read the accounts of the 1953 Uprising (more details to come in lecture!) from Die Zeit and Neues Deutschland and analyze how the event was reported very differently in East and West Germany. How did U.S. President Eisenhower’s account of the events fit into these interpretations?

3. Provide a brief summary and discuss the historical significance of one additional document.

WEEK 4 Jan 26-30 Ostpolitik, 68ers, and Confronting Wartime Crimes: West Germany in the 1960s

Document Assignment 3 (due Jan 26 @ 9:30am)

1. Using several of the documents, highlight some of the key issues fueling student protest in the 1960s. Do you think the “68ers” were merely rebelling against the older generation, or expressing the true problems facing West Germany in the 1960s? Cont’d...
2. Based on the writings of Willy Brandt, what were the main obstacles to German reunification in the 1960s?

3. According to these documents, what were some of the issues at stake in the German memory of the Second World War in the 1960s?

WEEK 5

3. Choose one additional document to summarize, and then provide its historical significance.

ASSIGNMENTS

1. Document Responses (20%)

   We will often have discussion sessions during this course. They will give you the chance to debate the complex issues of German History with your colleagues. To prepare for the discussions, please read the primary documents, as listed on the schedule above, and provide written answers to the questions. The answers must be thorough and show evidence of a critical reading of the documents; however, no outside research is necessary, or allowed. We will tabulate the best grades from six (6) of these assignments toward your final course grade: this gives you one “freebie” week.
2. Midterm Test (February 11, 10%)

The Midterm Test will include material from the lectures, readings and films, and will be ask you to identify and give the historical significance of three (3) terms (people, places, things, dates, ideas) out of a choice of five (5). I will distribute a study guide a week before the test.

3. Research Proposal and Bibliography (February 20, 10%)

Please choose a topic from the list posted to D2L, and compile a bibliography of:

A. 5 (or more) primary documents: newspaper articles, pamphlets, diary entries, government reports, etc.

B. 5 (or more) secondary sources: books and/or scholarly articles

The bibliography must be formatted using the guidelines in the Chicago Manual of Style. You may find examples at: http://www.chicagomanualofstyle.org/tools_citationguide.html

Each student is also required to submit a proposal (c. 200 words) on their research topic. We will discuss both parts of this assignment in class on February 13.

Please submit the Research Proposal and Bibliography to the D2L Dropbox before February 20 @ midnight.

4. Research Essay (March 27, 10-12 pages, 2500-3000 words, 30%)

The major writing assignment for this course will be a Research Essay of 10-12 pages based on both primary and secondary sources. As primary sources, you may wish to use: documents, diaries, letters, photographs, paintings, film footage, newspapers, maps, etc. For secondary material, please refer to scholarly books or articles. These may certainly be e-resources, but they may NOT be websites or blogs. Please ask me if you are uncertain of the validity of a source, and I will provide more information on effective research techniques in class and during office hours.

You will find a list of suggested topics on D2L. A large part of the assignment will be to focus your research on one aspect of those broad topics, and to formulate a strong thesis statement (central argument). We will have a comprehensive tutorial on How to Write the Research Essay on February 13, which will give you all the information you need on researching, writing, citing and formatting your essays.

Please submit the Research Essay to the D2L Dropbox before March 27 @ midnight.

5. Final Examination (Official Exam Period, 30%)

This three-hour final examination will include material from the lectures, documents and films, and will be comprised of two parts: Part 1: 50 Short Answer Questions (50 marks); Part 2: 2 Essay Questions (50 marks). I will distribute a study guide during the exam review on the final day of classes.

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY

The University of New Brunswick places a high value on academic integrity and has a policy on plagiarism, cheating and other academic offenses.

Plagiarism includes:

1. quoting verbatim or almost verbatim from any source, including all electronic sources, without acknowledgement;
2. adopting someone else's line of thought, argument, arrangement, or supporting evidence without acknowledgement;
3. submitting someone else's work, in whatever form without acknowledgement;
4. knowingly representing as one's own work any idea of another.

Examples of other academic offenses include: cheating on exams, tests, assignments or reports; impersonating somebody at a test or exam; obtaining an exam, test or other course materials through theft, collusion, purchase or other improper manner, submitting course work that is identical or substantially similar to work that has been submitted for another course; and more as set out in the academic regulations found in the Undergraduate Calendar.

Penalties for plagiarism and other academic offences range from a minimum of F (zero) in the assignment, exam or test to a maximum of suspension or expulsion from the University, plus a notation of the academic offence on the student's transcript.

For more information, please see the Undergraduate Calendar, Section B, Regulation VII.A, or visit http://nocheating.unb.ca. It is the student's responsibility to know the regulations.
