New from University of Toronto Press

ISBN 9781487521813

“This immaculately researched and wonderfully readable study breathes new life into the fields of labour, women’s, and left history...”

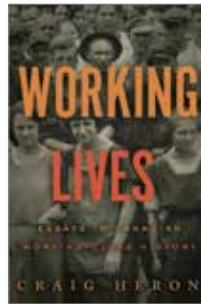

– Ian McKay
McMaster University

ISBN 9781487504632

“A History of Law in Canada is an ambitious study that skilfully brings together the legal history of regions, of peoples, and, indeed, of both western European and Indigenous civilizations.”

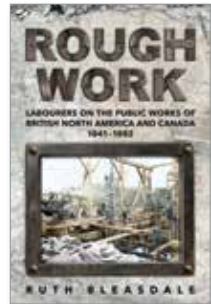

– Brian Young
McGill University

ISBN 9781487522513

“No one has done more to apply the methods of the new labour history to the twentieth-century working-class experience than Craig Heron...”

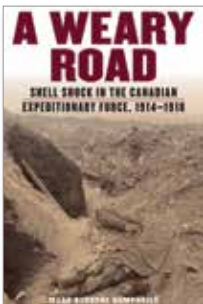

– David Frank
University of New Brunswick

ISBN 9781487521998

“[Rough Work] is, in fact, one of the best pieces of scholarship on nineteenth-century Canadian social history that I have read in many years.”

– Craig Heron
York University

ISBN 9781442644717

“A Weary Road will greatly enhance the investigation and literature of war-related trauma and mental health issues.”

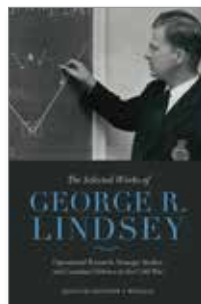

– Timothy C. Winegard
Colorado Mesa University

ISBN 9781487505059

“Crisp and evocative, and with the potential to impact both a scholarly and general audience...”

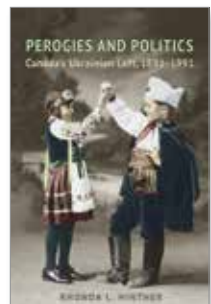

– Michael Dawson
St. Thomas University

ISBN 9781487503536

“Shedding light on operational analysis, this book unpacks Lindsey’s sharp eye and shrewd analytical skills on the major defence issues of the period.”

– Joseph Jockel
St. Lawrence University

“Hinther offers a nuanced portrait of Canada’s Ukrainian left in the twentieth century.”

– Linda Kealey

Advancing Knowledge

New from University of Toronto Press

ISBN 9781487504762

“An excellent contribution to the social history of upper middle-class North American sport and leisure during this period. It is painstakingly researched, well organized, carefully argued and richly illustrated.”

– Bruce Kidd
University of Toronto

ISBN 9780802095312

“Prairie Fairies is an excellent and an extremely valuable contribution to the growing field of Canadian lesbian, gay, and queer history.”

– Liz Millward
University of Manitoba

ISBN 9781487522742

“Fighting Fat contributes to a growing body of scholarship in the fields of medical history, cultural history, and fat studies, and is one of the first books to cover obesity in Canada.”

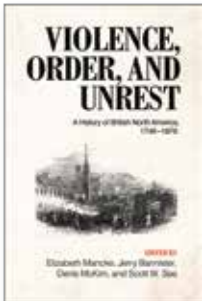

– Elena Levy-Navarro
University of Wisconsin, Whitewater

ISBN 9781442628717

“This book’s heart lies in the vast display of local primary documents that do what all good history should do – bring the period back to life.”

– Robert Osgood
St. Norbert College

ISBN 9781487523701

“An outstanding volume, Violence, Order, and Unrest will be immensely useful to historians of early Canada, and the writing quality and variety of essay topics are such that the book is likely to attract many non-specialist readers.”

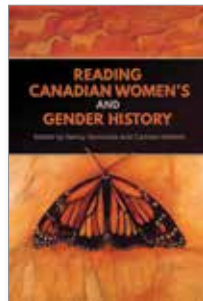

– Jim Piecuch
Kennesaw State University

ISBN 9781487521868

“Situating a series of historical episodes in context, Selling Out or Buying In? augments earlier studies of consumerism that defined people as consumers in both cultural and economic terms.”

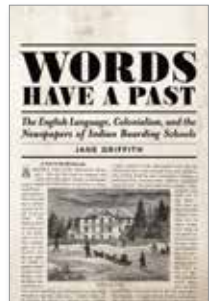

– Len Kuffert
University of Manitoba

ISBN 9781442629714

“Featuring extraordinary and memorable essays, this volume fills an important gap by offering the state of the Canadian women’s history as well as proposing new directions for pursuit.”

– Carol Williams
University of Lethbridge

ISBN 9781487521554

“Sheds new light on the destructive patterns of settler colonialism by examining their school newspapers and their representations of the assimilation project.”

– Andrew Woolford
University of Manitoba

Land acknowledgement

We give thanks to the Musqueam people for welcoming us on their territory. We will be working diligently to live up to our collective responsibility to honour and respect their protocols and homeland, to build relationships, and to engage meaningfully with their knowledge in this Congress and beyond. Our gratitude extends to the Skwxw ́7mesh (Squamish) and s̓l̓l̓w̓t̓aʔɫ̓ (Tsleil-Waututh) First Nations, for hosting Congress attendees on their unceded territories that we now know to be the city of Vancouver.

Reconnaissance du territoire

Nous remercions les Musqueam de nous accueillir sur leur territoire. Nous travaillerons avec diligence pour assumer notre responsabilité collective d'honorer et de respecter leurs protocoles et leur patrie, d'établir des relations et de contribuer de façon constructive à la mise en valeur de leur savoir dans ce Congrès et au-delà. Notre reconnaissance s'adresse également aux Premières nations Skwxw ́7mesh (Squamish) et S̓l̓l̓w̓t̓aʔɫ̓ (Tsleil-Waututh) pour l'accueil fait aux congressistes sur leurs territoires non cédés que nous connaissons aujourd'hui sous le nom de ville de Vancouver.

Bienvenue à l'Université de la Colombie-Britannique!

Vous avez été très nombreux cette année à répondre à l'appel de communications intitulé « Conversations à travers le temps, l'espace et les cultures ». Le programme de la Réunion annuelle qui résulte de cette avalanche de soumissions reflète l'originalité, le dynamisme et la rigueur de la recherche historique de pointe produite au Canada et ailleurs. Le Comité du Programme est donc fier de pouvoir vous proposer plus de 140 sessions, tables-rondes, discours et activités portant sur une panoplie de sujets et de thèmes abordés selon une variété d'approches et de perspectives théoriques et méthodologiques. J'aimerais profiter de l'occasion pour remercier les membres du Comité du Programme pour leur dévouement et leur grand professionnalisme. L'organisation de la présente Réunion annuelle n'aurait pas été possible sans eux. Mille mercis! Je voudrais aussi remercier Eagle Glassheim, directeur du département d'histoire à UBC, pour son soutien indéfectible, spécialement au niveau financier. Ma gratitude va également à Ken Corbett et à Stefanie Ickbert pour leur aide technique dans la préparation d'une publicité pour la Réunion et de la version finale du programme. Enfin, je remercie ma collègue Tina Loo pour avoir pris en charge le site Internet de la Réunion.

Michel Ducharme

Président du Comité du Programme UBC 2019

Welcome to the University of British Columbia!

This year, many of you responded to the call for papers entitled “Conversations across time, space and cultures”. The program of the Annual Meeting that resulted from this avalanche of submissions reflects the originality, dynamism and rigour of cutting-edge historical research produced in Canada and elsewhere. The Programme Committee is therefore proud to be able to offer you more than 140 sessions, round tables, speeches and activities on a wide range of topics and themes from a variety of theoretical and methodological approaches and perspectives. I would like to take this opportunity to thank the members of the Program Committee for their dedication and great professionalism. The organization of this Annual Meeting would not have been possible without them. Many thanks! I would also like to thank Eagle Glassheim, Director of the History Department at UBC, for his unwavering support, especially in financial terms. My gratitude also goes to Ken Corbett and Stefanie Ickbert for their technical assistance in preparing an advertisement for the Meeting and the final version of the programme. Finally, I would like to thank my colleague Tina Loo for taking charge of the Annual Meeting website.

1. CCLH Vancouver Walking Tour and Roundtable Discussions | Visite guidée de Vancouver et tables rondes du CCHT

The Canadian Committee on Labour History is pleased to present a free walking tour and labour history workshop at Congress 2019 on Sunday 2 June 2019.

At 10 am, meet at Victory Square (West Hastings and Cambie) for a walking tour of downtown Vancouver, exploring the working class history of the city.

Or, join us for lunch at 12:00 pm at the Ukrainian Hall (805 East Pender Street).

Starting at 1:00 pm there will be three roundtable discussions: Working in the Neoliberal University, Labour History Beyond the Classroom, and Building an Inclusive Labour History.

There will be no formal papers. The goal is to collectively explore how we might reinvigorate the study and teaching of labour history and to chart a positive path for activism.

We will end the day with supper. Please register using the link below:

Le Comité canadien sur l'histoire du travail est heureux d'offrir une visite guidée gratuite et un atelier sur l'histoire du travail au Congrès 2019, le dimanche 2 juin 2019.

À 10 h, rendez-vous au Victory Square (West Hastings et Cambie) pour une visite à pied du centre-ville de Vancouver, à la découverte de l'histoire de la classe ouvrière de la ville.

Ou soyez des nôtres pour le déjeuner au Ukrainian Hall (805 East Pender Street) à midi.

À partir de 13 h, il y aura trois tables rondes : Working in the Neoliberal University, Labour History Beyond the Classroom et Building an Inclusive Labour History.

Il n'y aura pas de documents officiels. L'objectif est d'explorer collectivement comment nous pourrions revigorer l'étude et l'enseignement de l'histoire syndicale et de tracer une voie positive pour l'activisme.

Nous terminerons la journée par un souper. Veuillez-vous inscrire en utilisant le lien ci-dessous :

The Tri-University Graduate Program in History combines the faculty and resources of three of Canada's premier universities. With over 70 graduate faculty in the program, we are able to provide courses and supervise research across the widest possible range of areas. At the same time, through small seminars, close student-professor relationships, and teaching assistantships and scholarships held at one of our three participating campuses, we provide the atmosphere and collegiality of a smaller, more intimate program.

Our PhD program focusses on nine major fields: Canadian History, Cold War History, Early Modern European History, Indigenous History of Turtle Island, Modern European History, Medieval History, Scottish History, World History, and War and Society. Our Faculty's wide-ranging interests for research and graduate teaching at both the PhD and MA levels include the Atlantic world, crime, culture and entertainment, family and youth, gender and sexuality, health and nutrition, imperialism, Indigenous history, military history, politics and international relations, religious history, rural history, urban history, the history of science and the environment, and the history of tourism.

PhD Program

Each year we accept up to 20 new doctoral students. All eligible students receive substantial multi-year financial support, are provided with teaching assistantship opportunities, and are offered a course of their own to teach in a mentored setting. Our students generally move through their comprehensive fields one year, and so devote the majority of their studies to their own research, teaching, and writing. Program milestones (involving the writing and defence of both a thesis proposal and a completed chapter of the thesis) provide some of the most active support for students in any doctoral program. And first-year field seminars, extensive teaching opportunities, professional development courses, and the annual Tri-University History Conference provide superlative preparation for the non-academic and academic job markets alike, as demonstrated by the post-degree success of our graduates.

MA Program

In our flexible program, usually completed in 12 months, students complete their degrees through a combination of courses and a major research paper or thesis, or through coursework alone. With 25 MA seminars offered for 2019-20, we provide one of the most extensive ranges of exclusively MA-level courses in the country. All students have equal access to these courses and to the program's over 70 faculty members for service on their committees, and all eligible students in the program receive guaranteed financial support in the form of teaching assistantships and scholarships. The program's rigorous reading and research seminars, and capstone major research paper and thesis projects, have provided recent graduates with an ideal training for their current work in careers in finance, the tech sector, information science, teaching, and public administration, and in doctoral programs in History around the world.

For a comprehensive list of our faculty, areas, and courses, please visit our website (www.triuhistory.ca), for additional information please contact our director, Adam Crerar (acrerar@wlu.ca).

HANDS ON HISTORY AT CARLETON

Our students make history, they don't just read it

Essays are only one way to explore the past. Students at Carleton construct immersive digital projects, write scripts, curate exhibits, conduct oral history interviews and create documentaries. They also write and publish innovative historical essays.

They engage with history in the real world through co-op and practicum opportunities for undergraduates, and paid internships for public history MA students. And where better to do this than the nation's capital?

Our students find employment in a wide variety of cultural institutions, and we now offer major as well as minor doctoral fields in public history.

*Thursday June 6 | Jeudi 6 juin8:30 – 15:00 | 8h30 – 15h00 (BUCH B 141)*142. The Canadian Network of Humanitarian History Workshop | Atelier du Réseau canadien sur l'histoire de l'humanitaire*9:00 | 9h00*143. Stó:lō Territory Bus Tour 9am-6pm June 6th 2019

Registrants at the Canadian Historical Association meeting are invited to participate in a full day tour of the Stó:lō traditional territory from Vancouver through the Fraser Valley to Yale at the mouth of the Fraser Canyon, led by Stó:lō elder and cultural advisor Naxaxalhts'is, (Dr. Sonny McHalsie).

The Stó:lō are the People of the River – the Fraser River which has fed them and served as their transportation corridor and history book for thousands of years. Special stops of interest include the fishing rock known as Kw'ik-w'iyá:la (Coquihalla); the pool of origin for the sacred sxwó:yxwey mask; see the remains of a sqémél (pithouse: or in Chinook “keekwillie”) last used in the 1880's; the site where Xexá:ls the transformers left scratch marks at a place where he did battle with Xéylxe-lamós, an Indian Doctor, and the Coqualeetza Reserve with its reconstructed longhouse, museum and history as a residential school and Indian hospital. Naxaxalhts'is will share stories about the Stó:lō connection to the river, land, and spirits that animate their world and introduce participants to different set of place names and cultural meanings than populate the standard map of the Fraser Valley.

The tour will leave from in front of The Irving K. Barber Learning Centre (1961 E Mall) at the University of BC at 9 am, stop at the Holiday Inn Vancouver Centre (711 West Broadway avenue) at 9:20 and return to UBC via the Holiday Inn by 6pm. The tour includes a bag lunch and snacks. The cost is $75 with a reduction to $35 for students and the precariously employed registered at the conference.

Please note that there are only 50 places on the bus. Register now (https://fhss.swoogo.com/19- registration-inscription?lang=en)!

Visite en autobus du territoire Stó:lō le 6 juin 2019 (9h-18h)

Les membres inscrits à la réunion de la Société historique du Canada sont invités à participer à une excursion d'une journée complète sur le territoire traditionnel des Stó:lō, de Vancouver en passant par la vallée du Fraser à Yale, à l'embouchure du canyon du Fraser, sous la direction de Naxaxalhts'í's, aîné et conseiller culturel Stó:lō. (Sonny McHalsie).

Les Stó:lō sont les gens du fleuve - le fleuve Fraser qui les nourrit et qui leur sert de corridor de transport et de livre d'histoire depuis des milliers d'années. Les sites touristiques intéressants que nous visiterons comprennent le rocher de pêche connu sous le nom de Kw'ík-w'iyá : (Coquihalla) ; le lieu d'origine du masque sxwó: yxwey sacré ; les vestiges d'un sqémél (demeure semi souterraine : ou en chinook « keekwillie ») utilisé pour la dernière fois dans les années 1880 ; le site où Xexá:l's le transformateur a laissé des marques d'abrasion à l'endroit où il s'est battu avec Xéylxe-lamós, un médecin indien ainsi que la réserve de Coqualeetza avec sa longue maison reconstruite, son musée et son histoire en tant que pensionnat et hôpital indien. Naxaxalhts'í's partagera des histoires sur la connexion des Stó:lō avec le fleuve, la terre et les esprits qui animent leur univers et initiera les participants aux différents ensembles de noms de lieux et de significations culturelles différents de ceux qui figurent sur la carte standard de la vallée du Fraser.

La visite débutera devant le centre d'apprentissage Irving K. Barber (1961 E Mall) de l'Université de la Colombie-Britannique à 9 h, s'arrêtera à l'hôtel Holiday Inn Vancouver Centre (711 West Broadway) à 9 h 20 avant de se terminer à l'UBC via le Holiday Inn à 18h. Un lunch et des collations seront offerts durant la visite. L'admission générale est de 75 et de 35 $ pour les étudiants et les travailleurs précaires inscrits à la conférence.

Veillez noter qu'il y a seulement de la place pour 50 participants. Inscrivez-vous dès maintenant (<https://fhss.swoogo.com/19-registratation-inscription?lang=fr>)!
