The 2027 CBHA/ACHA Award for

Best Scholarly Article in Canadian Business History

The Canadian Business History Association, Canada's leading organization for the study of business in Canada, invites submissions for its annual $1000 Award for Best Scholarly Article in Canadian Business History. The prize committee encourages the submission of articles from all methodological perspectives, and from any scholarly journal or journalistic source (provided the article has the necessary research depth and quality). It is particularly interested in innovative studies that have the potential to expand the boundaries of the discipline. Scholars, publishers, journalists, and other interested parties may submit nominations. Eligible articles can have either a Canadian or an international focus, which includes a Canadian perspective. They must be written in English or French and be published during the year prior to the award.

For the 2027 award, articles published in 2026 will be considered. The prize includes a certificate and a $1000 award.

An electronic copy of the article must accompany a nomination and be submitted to the CBHA/ACHA Prize Coordinator, at ed@cbha.ca

The deadline for nominations is 26 February 2027.

About the CBHA/ACHA: Created in 2015, the CBHA/ACHA brings together academics from a wide range of disciplines, archivists and business leaders in the common pursuit of advancing the study and understanding of business history in Canada. Learn more about the CBHA/ACHA at our website, cbha.ca
